Fundamental

S&P remains strong

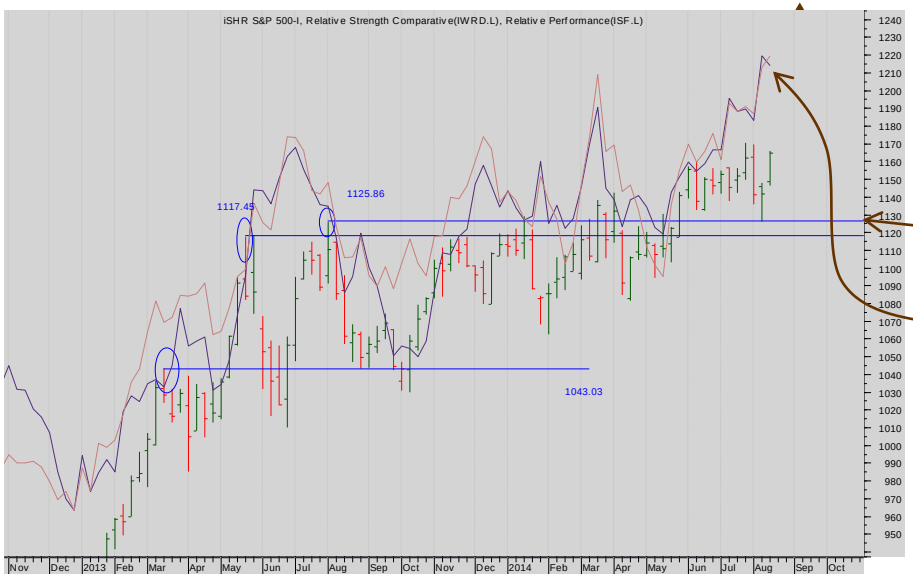
Weekly chart

The S&P has continued the well-established bull trend - bouncing off both the rising diagonal supports and the horizontal support from the Prior High at 1891.



Daily chart S&P ETF

The day chart bears out in microcosm the strength of the Index.

Note well the bounce off the Prior High supports.

But note too the relative strength of the market against either the FTSE or the index of world markets.

The S&P is outperforming them all.
