Summary

SOY Markets:

SOY BEANS, this market remains range-bound.

BEAN OIL The medium and short-term bears are increasingly in charge.

SOY MEAL the powerful break up through the top of the daily trading range means that the market in the short-term is underpinned that is so still but there is little corroborating evidence in the medium and long-term charts.

SOY: Soy Bean

Monthly Chart continuation:

Above the market lies resistance at 1125.

The market has been driven down from that resistance to remain within a wide trading range.

SOY: Soy Bean Oil

Monthly Chart Continuation:

There was no sustained close beneath the Prior Low pivot at 27.90

And the market has stabilised.

But is there a completed H&S bottom?

Can the resistance at 36.80 be overcome?

Weekly Chart – Continuation:

The bulls may have had high hopes from the H&S reversal, but we recognised that the market also needed to break up through 36.80

It never did and the H&S pattern looks to have failed.

Watch the price action carefully in case of further breakdown.

Daily Mar 17 Chart

Note the failure of the horizontal supports from the Prior Highs.

The short-term bears are in charge (while there's resistance at 34.57) and forcing the medium-term bulls to reconsider.

We are sellers with stops above 35.50

But this is more interesting : break up through 330 is powerful and shown to be powerful support on any pull-backs.

This is a short-term buying opportunity....with stops beneath 330.

Summary

CORN and RAPESEED and WHEAT:

CORN the Long and Medium-term trading ranges are still intact but note and watch the short-term test of the upper boundary.

RAPESEED We are outright bulls in all time-frames.

WHEAT We are outright bulls in all time-frames
