CURRENCIES:

The Dollar weakness has been very sharp but it is running into good support against the Euro and The Yen. It hasn't moved so far against the Sterling but there are completed pattern there that might well drive it on. Sterling Euro looks bad for Sterling – plenty of scope for more selling there.

Dollar Euro monthly spot cash chart

These powerful resistances above the market at 1.15 and above have reversed the attempted bear Dollar/bull Euro market ...

The pressure is on the Euro now. We favour a strengthening Dollar in the longer term.

That is, a continuance of the trend from the beginning of 2018.

All the Prior Pivotal lows of 1993, 2001, 2008 and 2016 have acted as good resistance. A massive Multiple Top has formed.

The market rallied back deep into the band of resistance as far as the 50% Fibonacci resistance – but failed there.

Look more closely at the re-approach.

This Sterling weakness looks like a completed Double Top – suggesting still lower Sterling to come.

Minimum move? About 1.13 or so.

Stocks

STOCKS:

The sharp moves are testing major long-term supports. But it's tricky! Despite the violence of the price action patience is required to wait for weekly and monthly closes to discover how much serious damage has been done to these former bull markets. We are bearish longer term in the S&P but the trajectory? Watch the EuroStoxx closely – at the bottom of a trading range ( or possible Triple Top). Most worrying is the FTSE. The long-term supports from 2000 have been unambiguously smashed.
