CURRENCIES:

The violent gyrations of the market mean that the Dollar is no more clearly strengthening short term. It's simply not clear. Having said that there's no indication of a long or medium-bear Dollar trend developing. Watch and wait for clarity. Note though the reassertion of the importance of the trading range in the Sterling Euro. Stability there.

All the Prior Pivotal lows of 1993, 2001, 2008 and 2016 have acted as good resistance. A massive Multiple Top has formed.

The market rallied back deep into the band of resistance as far as the 50% Fibonacci resistance – but failed there.

Now there's a bear continuation triangle that has not yet completed - wait for the monthly close...

Dollar Sterling Monthly spot cash LINE CHART based on closes

Note here the possible bear continuation triangle. The break beneath the lower diagonal would accelerate the bear move implicit in the massive bear formation in the long-term chart....wait for the monthly close.

STOCKS:

Stocks look increasingly confident that they have seen the lows. Beyond that little is clear. Only a break beneath that 2133 level in the S&P would through that into doubt. There are no medium or short-term bottom formations in place though - yet there might be a V-shaped recovery as in 2018-19, with no bottom formed. Monthly close should add significantly to that picture and should be closely watched. Note especially the Eurostoxx and the bear threat of a close beneath 2645 completing a long-term top. Similarly the Nikkei.

The pull back of this month has been accelerated by the MONTHLY Key reversal of last month.

The result has been a break beneath the diagonal bull trendline support from 2010.

It is a tricky call intra-month (that is before the close on the month) but note the intact horizontal support from the 2133.

Support beneath that is a long way down.
