All the Prior Pivotal lows of 1993, 2001, 2008 and 2016 have formed a bearish long term Multiple Top - but the sideways price action beneath 1.35 is now testing the diagonal downtrend resistance Indeed has broken it.

But the horizontal resistance remain largely intact above the market.

BONDS:

Now Bonds are looking interesting. The US market has done enough to convince that Yields are going higher in all time frames at least as far as the good resistance on the monthly chart - 1.32%. The futures chart supports a bearish price conclusion. The Bunds and Gilts are less compelling: only short term reversals are in place (Bund) or close to them (Gilts)

COMMODITIES:

Oil has surged in line with our bullish expectations. It still looks good but in the short-term may wish to mark-time. Gold established powerful reversals in both the daily and weekly charts. We think the evaporation of the bulls' hope may lead to more on the downside in line with the reversals. Support at 1789 looks like it is going to be tested.
